MATTER OF: Spacesaver Systems, Inc.

DIGEST:

Where offer on its face does not take exception to solicitation's specifications, contention that product supplied by contractor will not comply with contract specifications is a matter of contract administration for consideration by the agency, not GAO.

Spacesaver Systems, Inc. protests the award of a contract for delivery and installation of a high density moveable shelf filing system to White Power Files, Inc. under General Services Administration (GSA) solicitation No. FNP-C5-1768-N-3-19-85. Spacesaver contends that the system provided by White Power Files will not meet the specifications set forth in the solicitation.

We have reviewed National's offer and can find nothing on the face of the offer indicating that National took exception to any of the specification requirements. When the agency accepted National's offer, it became a binding agreement requiring National to submit the equipment as described in the specification. Whether National actually furnishes complying equipment is a matter for consideration by GSA, not our Office, in administering the contract, and does not affect the validity of the award. E.A.R., Division of Cabot Corp., B-215032, July 5, 1984, 84-2CPD ¶ 18.

Since the protest does not state a valid basis for protest, it is dismissed. Bid Protest Regulations, 4 C.F.R. § 21.3(f) (1985).
